

100 Hilderbrands Road, Kyogle

UNDER OFFER

Nestled at the base of Mount Lindesay is this 342-acre picturesque lifestyle property. The property offers uninterrupted views of Mount Lindesay, which extends itself into the clouds, it is a magical part of the world and it is just breathtaking standing there in this quiet valley and looking at this magnificent mountain which was once an active volcano.

The land is covered in trees and has a 26-hectare hardwood plantation which is approximately 19 years old, the balance of the land can be used for grazing but is heavily timbered with both natural forest and rain forest gullies. A good majority of the property has new fencing.

On the property there are two catchment dams plus an easement to the river if needed, so plenty of water. Power also runs through the property and it has council road as a boundary.

There are many bush walking and 4WD tracks all throughout the property and one of the borders is the "Old Highway" which you can access from this farm and would be great for horse riding, motor bikes etc.

If you want a great weekender to enjoy and explore the great outdoors and be surrounded by state forest and national parks, then give us a call for an inspection.
